

they can do because you can transport that. There is no problem there.

SENATOR SMITH: All right. In other words it takes the responsibility now out of the driver's hands totally for what everyone in the car is doing.

SENATOR SIECK: Right.

SENATOR SMITH: He is not responsible if they're doing something that he doesn't necessarily condone in the car?

SENATOR SIECK: This is right. This is what it is and of course you know what happens if there is a couple in the back seat and the driver gets dry, he's going to say, hey give me a drink, and we want to prevent that.

SENATOR SMITH: Thank you.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Sieck, may I ask a question of you? Since there is some wording and so forth, changes, need to be made, would you and Senator Hefner and Senator Hoagland be willing to work on this and hold it over one day? Would this be agreeable with you?

SENATOR SIECK: Sure, you bet.

SPEAKER NICHOL: I have the feeling that perhaps some of the legal terminology needs to be worked on. Would that be agreeable with you, Senator Hefner? Then we'll hold this up a day or so, if it's all right with you and give you a chance to straighten...

SENATOR SIECK: No problem.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Okay. Senator Haberman, for what purpose do you rise?

SENATOR HABERMAN: Mr. President, there's a point that I'd like to have in the record that I'd like to have them consider if you allow me to speak on Senator Sieck's amendment.

SPEAKER NICHOL: All right, go ahead.

SENATOR HABERMAN: I've had my light on to speak.
